OUTSIDE

The property is tucked away on a quiet country lane with a gravel driveway and parking for numerous vehicles leading to an attached garage with wooden doors, and has light and power connected. The front garden is enclosed by a wrought iron fence and gates and laid with artificial grass. There is side pedestrian access on both sides of the property, leading to the rear garden.

The rear garden is completely private and not overlooked, with field and countryside views. Gravel pathways lead to a paved seating area, with an artificial lawn and flower beds. There is an outside light and tap.

SITUATION & AMENITIES

The lovely village of Long Compton is located in the attractive rolling South Warwickshire countryside, on the Warwickshire/Oxfordshire borders. The village is surrounded by delightful undulating countryside designated in the main as a Conservation Area and within the Cotswold Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty.

The village is conveniently situated for easy access to both Shipston-on-Stour and Chipping Norton. The former featured in a Sunday Times list of the UK's top market towns to live in. The area is well served by a network of main roads providing access to the larger centres of Oxford, Banbury and Stratford-upon-Avon all of which provide first class educational establishments in the state and public sectors, as well as providing a wide range of cultural and leisure facilities.

The M40 (J11) at Banbury provides access north to Birmingham and the Midlands and south to Oxford and London. There are mainline stations at Banbury and Moreton-in-Marsh with regular rail services to London Marylebone and Paddington respectively.
