

South Newington,
Oxfordshire

South Newington, Oxfordshire.

An attractive period stone cottage which has been tastefully updated and improved, and benefiting from a double width driveway to detached garage.

South Newington is a popular Conservation Area village situated between the market towns of Chipping Norton and Banbury in undulating Oxfordshire countryside, close to the north Cotswolds. Facilities within the village include a parish church, fine-dining pub, children's play area and well-utilised village hall. Further local facilities can be found at Bloxham, just 2 miles away and offers a wide range of amenities including shops, three public houses, a parish church, post office, doctors' and dentists' surgeries.

There are both primary and secondary schooling with sixth form and the world renowned Bloxham (Boys and Girls) and Tudor Hall (Girls) boarding schools. Soho Farmhouse is approximately 5 miles away, offering its renowned private members' club with luxury spa facilities, restaurants, wellness amenities and a wide range of leisure activities. The celebrated Daylesford Organic Farm Shop and Spa at Kingham is also within easy reach, providing award-winning farm-to-table dining, artisan shopping, wellness facilities and seasonal events. Together with the nearby Cotswold villages, these destinations contribute to the area's reputation as one of Oxfordshire's most desirable rural locations, combining picturesque countryside with exceptional lifestyle and leisure amenities.
